JAMES PARIS, KILLINGLY, SUES G. C. FOOTE, SOUTHBRIDGE

Claims $10,000 for Violation of Contract in Leasing Plaintiff's Store to George Evangelides.

Attachment papers in a civil suit for $10,000, brought by James Paris of the town of Killingly against George C. Foote of Southbridge, Mass., were received by Constable Thomas J. Killourey of this city late Tuesday afternoon from Attorney Benedict Holden of Hartford, who is handling the case in the interest of the plaintiff. Constable Killourey left Tuesday evening for the purpose of serving the papers and making the attachment of property to the value of $10,000, on either goods or real estate, now in legal possession of Foote. The writ calls for the appearance of Foote before the superior court of Windham county the first Tuesday of September to answer to James Paris, in a civil action for the reversion of the premises and making the attachment of property to the value of $10,000, on either goods or real estate, now in legal possession of Foote. The writ calls for the appearance of Foote before the superior court of Windham county the first Tuesday of September to answer to James Paris, in a civil action for the reversion of the premises and making the attachment of property to the value of $10,000, on either goods or real estate, now in legal possession of Foote.

The papers in the case convey the information that on Oct. 14, 1912, the plaintiff, then a resident of Moosup, with the defendant, signed and sealed a lease by which the plaintiff hired and the defendant leased for a term of five years a store in the Dexter block, Main street, Southbridge, for a candy business. The lease was to start on May 1, 1914. The plaintiff alleges he had not been permitted peaceably to occupy and enjoy the possession of the premises, but on the contrary, after the contract of the term Sept. 1, 1915, the defendant leased said premises to one George Evangelides, who took possession at the election of the plaintiff and since then has kept plaintiff out of possession of the same.

The plaintiff complains in the contract made in the lease, purchased a great amount of material, equipment, soda fountain and trade-making machines for wholesale and retail candy trade and that by reason of the defendant's failure to fulfill said contract and by other acts and omissions of the defendant the plaintiff was deprived of his time, labor and profit and in the loss of his fixtures.

Paris claims damages of $2,000. The sum of $100 has been secured to prosecute the case and Attorney Holden declares that he has personal knowledge of the financial responsibility of the plaintiff.

JORDAN AUTO CO. SUE.

C. C. Case Seeks $5,000 Damage for Injury to His Daughter.

Christopher C. Case of No. 90 Windham street has brought suit against the Jordan Auto company of this city for injuries received by Elizabeth B. Case, his eight year old daughter, in an automobile accident on the late afternoon of June 3, 1915. The accident happened on Windham street curbing, opposite the entrance to the garage of the company. The little girl and a playmate, Gladys Roddy, were playing on the sidewalk curbing when a car with Kenneth Harroun at the wheel backed out of the driveway of the garage to the street. The complaint alleged that the car in question was the property of the defendants and was negligently driven by the child, that her leg was broken in three places and that she was otherwise injured. The action was returned to the superior court.

Details of Mrs. Eastman's Fatal Attack.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Eastman, 68, of Providence was stricken with an acute attack of indigestion while with relatives enjoying a basket luncheon at the side of the road just beyond North Windham, Monday night, as told in The Bulletin dispatches Tuesday. The party consisted of Mrs. Eastman and her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Trowbridge also of Providence. They were returning by automobile from a visit to the Hotchkiss school at Lakeside. During the luncheon, Mrs. Eastman was taken with violent pains and swooned. Elmer E. Moffit of this city, who was returning from a trip to Chaplin, arrived about the time the woman was taken ill. He went to Hansen's store in North Windham and called up Dr. C. E. Simonds by telephone. The doctor on arriving saw the case was a serious one and recommended that the woman be taken to St. Joseph's hospital, which was done. Mrs. Eastman's condition became worse and at 10 o'clock she died. Medical Examiner Dr. Louis I. Mason was called and stated that acute indigestion was the immediate cause of death, although Mrs. Eastman was afflicted with chronic nephritis and an aortic aneurysm. The body was removed to Undertaker J. M. Shepard's rooms and prepared for burial. Tuesday the body was sent to the home of the deceased by one of the morning trains.

For years she ran what was known as the old Willimantic Linen company boarding house. She was born in Woonsocket November 17, 1859, the daughter of Joseph and Emily Whipple, of Ashford. Her first husband was Henry Fitch Barrows of Mansfield. He died Sept. 22, 1894, and in January, 1902, Mrs. Barrows married Henry Beebe of Ellington. The latter died in April, 1906. There survive five sons by her first husband, two having died in infancy. Those living are Arthur A. and Charles H., of Woonsocket and Edwin S. of Torrington. The body will be brought here Thursday. Burial will follow in the Willimantic cemetery.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. B. E. Ayer, pastor of the Mansfield Center Congregational church.

Glad Strike is Ended.

The announcement of the settlement of the trolley-men's strike Tuesday afternoon was received with a great deal of satisfaction in Willimantic. This city did not feel the effect of the strike as the "towns over east" as the steam car service handled a good deal of the traffic. The South Coventry car had not been run since the strike started last Thursday morning. Since Sunday a motor bus was run between this city and South Coventry by one of the trolley car crews and was well patronized. The trolley were run daily since Friday on regular schedule time, up to 6 o'clock evening. The traffic, however, was light.
